DA-1

- Write a python program to the find simple interest and compound interest.
- Write a python code to get the coefficients of a quadratic equation from the user and find the roots of the quadratic equation.
- X1, X2 and X3 are the roots of a cubic equation. Write a python code to print the cubic equation.
- Write a python program to find the TNEB electricity bill amount from the units consumed.
- Write a python program to get a floating-point number from the user and find the number of digits in the whole number part and fractional part.